PACIFIC

BUSINESS COLLEGE,

MECHANIC'S INSTITUTE,
POST STREET, Between Montgomery & Kerney
SAN FRANCISCO,

The importance of a thorough and practical business training for those who contemplate entering the mercantile profession, is too well known to require much comment. Without such knowledge, the young merchant will become involved in many embarrassments which might otherwise be avoided. The youthful aspirant will find himself surrounded by inextricable difficulties, both in seeking a situation, and in the discharge of its duties after employment is obtained. To have received instruction at a mercantile college, endorsed by the leading merchants of the city, is more effective in winning the favor and confidence of a business firm, than all the letters of introduction which friends can give. The maintains a reputation for thoroughness and systematic training, far surpassing that of any other similar institution on the Pacific coast. Most of the leading merchants of this city have employed graduates from this College, and bear testimony to the practical efficiency of the course here prescribed. The system of actual practice embraces all the varied operations of real business. A Ladies' Department has lately been added to this popular institute. This spirit of enterprise cannot fail to draw forth the well-wishes of the public.

Pacific Business College

Address for all information,

A CARD

We the undersigned, merchants and business men of San Francisco, California, are at the present time, employing men who have completed the prescribed course of study at the Pacific Business College, and we take pleasure in stating that we have found them well posted in accountantship and the general principles of business, showing conclusively that they have been subjected to a thorough drill in those important matters, by experienced and competant instructors.

We cheerfully recommend the College as being in our opinion, an institution of intrinsic merit, and well worthy of the confidence and support or the community.

DON'T SLOP OVER.

"Don't slop over," the old man said,
As he placed his hand on the young man' head;
"Go it by all means' go it fast,
Go it while leather and horse-shoes last;
Go it while hair and hide on horse
Will hold together. O, go of course—
Go it as fast as ever you can,
But don't slop over my dear young man.

"Don't slop over. You'll find some day
That keeping an eye to the windward will pay.
A horse may run a little too long,
A preacher preach just a fraction too strong;
And a poet who pleases the world with rhymes
May write and regret it in after times,
Keep the end of the effort in view,
And don't slop over, whatever you do.

"Don't slop over. The wisest men
Are bound to slop over now and then;
And ye the wisest, at work or feast,
Are the very ones that blunder the least.
Those who for spilt milk never wail
Are the ones who carry the steadiest pail.
Wherever you go, go it for the fat;
But don't slop over and freeze to that.

"Don't slop over. Great Solomon
Once went a little too far with his fun.
Louis Napoleon, as we all know,
Slopped over on Max. in Mexico.
Horace Greeley and Jefferson D.,
And Hinton Helper, and old J. B.,
And Andrew Johnsing, the great "I won't,"
All slopped over—be careful You don't.

"Don't slop over, distrust yourself,
Nor always reach the highest shelf,
The next to the highest will generally do,
And answer the need of such as you.
Climb of course, but always stop
And take breath this side of the top;
And so you will reach it in wind and strong,
Without slopping over. This ends my song!"

PRODUCTION OF SILK IN CALIFORNIA.

The introduction of new branches of industry usually advances slowly. The workmen need experience, the capitalist needs confidence, and the markets need time. If there is haste there is danger. There is no wisdom in attempting to do business without a thorough understanding of the conditions under which it can be made to pay. We are therefore by no means dissatisfied with the slow development of the silk business in California. It is going ahead surely and with fine prospects. For those who engage in it under the most favorable auspices failure or loss is almost impossible. Among these circumstances are unencumbered ownership of the land, a soil favorable to the mulberry, a good knowledge of the method of taking care of the worms, eggs and cocoons, and the facilities of getting labor cheap, such as that of women or children during the busy season.

The stock of cocoons raised last year in this State numbered 200,000, of which half were killed under a misapprehension, so that 100,000 are supposed to remain for the production of butterflies this summer; and of these 50,000 are females, which should lay 300 sound eggs each. Let us suppose, however, that they lay 200 each, the number of cocoons this year would be 10,000,000; in 1869, 1,000,000,000; and in 1870, 100,000,000,000; that is if there were food and care for all. But neither can be obtained for all. It is doubtful whether more than 2,000,000 cocoons will be bred this year. There are great numbers of the mulberry trees in nursery, but very few in plantation, as they should stand, to produce leaves for the worms. Until there are extensive plantations of the mulberry the production of silk must remain unimportant. In the meantime, however, the experience, the confidence and the knowledge required for success are gradually establishing themselves, so that they will soon be urging the mulberry cultivation ahead instead of lagging behind.

All the experiments made by Mr. Prevost and his associates have resulted favorably. The only obstacle discovered so far is the high price of labor. The worms are exceedingly healthy and prolific, the cocoons large, the fiber strong and fine, the mulberry thrifty and hardy. The colds 45 deg., the heats of 100 deg., the thunder storms, and the summer rains which frequently prove fatal in France and Italy, are almost unknown in our coast valleys. In Europe, even when there is no rain, there are many damp, cloudy days which prevent the evaporation of the dew, and if there is any moisture on the leaves the worms sicken and die. The presence of the dew generally delays the feeding until late in the morning, whereas it would be better if the feeding could be done early in the morning. It is customary to feed three or four times a day in Europe, with leaves plucked off separately; but Mr. Prevost cuts off sprouts in the morning with enough leaves for the day, and his worms thrive very well in that way.

The silk business is one of vast importance. The value of the raw silk produced annually is $215,000,000; $80,000,000 for Asia, $40,000,000 for Italy, $25,000,000 for France, $24,000,000 for Hindostan, $17,000,000 for Japan, $7,000,000 for Turkey, $5,000,000 for the Islands in the Mediterranean and $3,000,000 for the Spanish Paninsula. The best silk is worth about $10 per pound, and the common qualities are worth half as much. The sale of the eggs is likely, however, to be more profitable in California, for a long time, than the production of silk. There is a great mortality, of late years, among the worms of Europe, and the disease, the nature of which is not understood has apparently become hereditary. Mr. Thiers, in a speech in the Corpse Legislatif, said it caused a loss of $20,0000,000 a year to France. A number of eminent scientific men have been studying it in the most careful manner with microscopes, and otherwise, but have failed to discover a remedy. There has been no resource save to import eggs regularly in considerable quantities from Japan and other distant countries, and a number of shipments have been made through San Francisco. A report relating to the silk in the Paris Exposition, published in the London Illustrated News says:

"While things jog on, as before, from year to year, the cultivator will be slow to believe it is possible that a time may come when no fresh graines (or eggs) are to be had. But the supply hangs upon a thread; when every silk dountry in the world shall become infected, then the supply must cease. And we are not far from that stage. Japan and Australia are the only countries now free. When they go the silk trade will collapse; and silk be blotted from the list of textile fabrics. That would, indeed, be a calamity which would come home to ourselves. Our silk spinners and silk weavers, our ribbon makers, our silk mercers, and the thousands who depend on these trades for subsistence, would have their occupations gone, and ruin and starvation would await a large portion of our population. Surely, to avert such a result, not only this country (Great Britain), but also over a large part of the Continent, deserves that every suggestion which promises escape should be carefully considered; and surely, if by any measure, however stringent, one country could be cleaned from infection before its spread ends in a extinction of the race, and so the threatened ruin be averted, it ought to be adopted."

California is not mentioned there because the writer knew nothing about our State, but our worms are entirely free from the least sign of disease; and Mr. Eliot C. Cowdin, United States Commissioner to the Exposition and member of the Committee on "Raw Materials and Manufactures of great use, or displaying remarkable skill or merit," in a report on silk, addressed to the Secretary of State, says:

"Though the possibility of the success of this kind of industry has been demonstrated in a great number of localities in America, it is probably to the Pacific Coast that we are to look for its greatest triumph. Among the finest cocoons exhibited at the Exposition were specimens from California. They were perfect in form, and remarkable for their white, silvery hue. The soil in the valleys of California is proverbially fertile, and mulberry trees are produced of the richest and most luxuriant growth. Its dry, warm, equable climate make it vastly superior for silk husbandry to France or Italy. In European countries, the rain and dampness destroy a much larger percentage of the grubs than on the Pacific Coast. An intelligent and enterprising French emigrant, who is enthusiasticly prosecuting this industry at San Jose, declares that the humidity and electricity of Europe destroy from 25 to 75 per cent. of the silkworms, while under the dry, elastic skies of California few ever perish. These considerations, in a measure, compensate for the higher wages of American labor. There are other savings in this industry, as compared with its prosecution in Europe. In California there is no necessity for artificial heat to hatch the eggs. To transfer them from the cellar to the garret, and expose them to the heating of the sun's beams on the roof is sufficient. Nor need the cultivator run the risk of the 'baking' process, so liable to dull the lustre of the silk. The powerful rays of the sun for a few hours will stifle the chrysalis, render the cocoon ready for the spinner, and preserve the brilliancy of the material.—California eggs are already highly valued by foreign silk-growers."

It is a well known fact that no eggs command a higher price in Lyons than those from this State, and there is no probability that the demand will cease or that the price will fall. Of course, however, the business should be conducted in a careful and conscientious manner, so that the good reputation already gained may not only be maintained but increased.—Alta.

A LADY'S REMINISCENCES OF GEN. GRANT.—A lady who says she has heard many uncharitable remarks in regard to the alleged intemperate habits of Gen. Grant, writes an interesting letter to the Philadelphia Press, the material portion of which we copy, as follows:

"During the first three years of the war I was actively identified with the Western branch of the Sanitary Commission, and had abundant opportunity of judging for myself in regard to the character and ability of many of our Generals. During the entire campaign of the opening of the Mississippi it was my privilege to aid in caring for our noble patriots, both in hospitals and in camps, and I have been for weeks together where I saw Gen. Grant daily, heard his name constantly, and never did I hear intemperance mentioned in connection with it..

"Facts are stubborn things. I will relate a few of the many that came directly to my own knowledge: In the winter of 1862-3, when the army arrived at Memphis, after long, weary marching, and trials that sicken the heart to think of, two-thirds of the officers and soldiers were in hospitals. Gen. Grant was lying sick at the Gayoso Hotel. One morning Mrs. Grant came into the ladies' pralor, very much depressed, and said the Medical Director had just been to see Mr. Grant, and thought he would not be able to go any further if he did not stimulate. Said she: 'And I cannot persuade him to do so; he says he will not die, and he will not touch a drop upon any consideration.' In less than a week he was on board the advance boat on the way to Vicksburg.

"Again a few months after, I was on board the headquarter's boat, at Milliken's Bend, where quite a lively gathering of officers and ladies had assembled. Cards and music were the order of the evening General Grant sat in the ladies' cabin, leaning upon a table covered with innumerable maps and routes to Vicksburg, wholly absorbed in contemplation of the great matter before him. He paid no attention whatever to what was going on around, neither did any one dare to interrupt him; for hours he sat thus, until the loved and lamented McPherson stepped up to him with a glass of liquor in his hand, and said: 'General this won't do you are injuring yourself; join with us in a few toasts, and throw this burden off your mind.' Looking up and smiling, he replied, 'Mc., you know your whiskey won't help me to think; give me a dozen of the best cigars you can find, and, if the ladies will excuse me for smoking, I think by the time I have finished them I shall have this job pretty nearly planned.' Thus he sat; and, when the company retired, we left him there, still smoking and thinking, not having touched one single drop of liquor.

"When the army lay around Vicksburg during that long siege, the time that tried men's souls, I watched every movement it was possible for me to do, feeling almost sure that he would eventually succumb to the custom, alas! too universal among the officers. I was in company with a gentleman from Chicago, who, while calling upon the General, remarked, "I have some very fine brandy on the boat, and if you will send an orderly with me to the river, I will send you a case or two." 'I am greatly obliged;' replied the General, 'but I do not use the article. I have a big job on hand, and though I know I shall win, I know I must do it with a cool head. Send all the liquor you intend for me to my hospital in the rear; I don't think a little will hurt the poor fellows down there.'

"At a celebration on the 22d of February, before the surrender of Vicksburg, while all around were drinking toasts in sparkling champagne, I saw General Grant push aside a glass of wine, and taking up a glass of Mississippi water, with the remark, 'This suits the matter in hand,' drink to the toast, 'God gave us Lincoln and liberty; let us fight for them both.'

"I should like to give you many more like instances of my own personal experience in regard to Gen. Grant's inebriate habits, but fear to trespass too largely upon your columns."

A FRENCH author, finding his reputation impeded by the hostility of the critics, resolved to adopt a little stratagem to assist him in gaining fame and money in spite of his enemies. He dressed himself in workman-like attire, and repaired to a distant province, where he took lodgings at a farrier's shop, in which he did a little work every day at the forge and anvil. But the greater part of his time was secretly devoted to the composing of three volumes of poetry and essays, which he published as the works of a journeyman blacksmith. The poems of this "child of nature," this "untutored genius," "inspired son of Vulcan," as he was now called, were immediately praised by the critics, and were soon purchased by everybody. The harmless deceit filled the pockets of the poor poet, who laughed to see the critics writing incessant praise on an author whose every former effort they made a point of abusing.

THE CONVERSATION OF WOMEN.—It is very well to call the talk of women trifling and frivolous; if it is pleasant and graceful, it is all that can be desired. Conversation should be the relaxation, and not the business of life; and the moralists who require that it should always be of "improving" character have no true idea of its proper social uses. Improving! have we not books, lectures, institutions, and complicated educational machinery enough of all kinds to improve us all off the face of the earth, if nature did not oppose a little wholesome duncehood to this sweeping tide of instruction? Must the schoolmaster still follow us in our little holiday? If the "queens of society" will only give us talk which shall be bright without ill-natured sharpness, playful without silliness—if they will show us that affectation, vanity, jealousy, and slander are no necessary ingredients in the social dialogue, but that rather they give an ill-savor to the wittiest and the cleverest play of words—if they will remember that good-humor, sympathy, and the wish to please for the sake of giving pleasure, will lend a charm to the most common-place thoughts and expressions—their conversation will "improve" us perhaps quite as much as most popular lectures and some popular sermons. The talk that puts you in good humor with yourself and your neighbors is not wholly profitless. If it has made half an hour pass pleasatly, which with a less agreeable companion would have been spent in gloomy silence, broken by spasmodic efforts, resulting in disgust at your own and his or her stupidity, it will have effected one of the ends for which speech was given us.

A GREAT NATURAL CURIOSITY.—The Sentiael, published at Jacksonville, Oregon, of the 12th ultimo, says: Several of our citizens returned last week from a visit to the great sunken lake situated in the Cascade mountains, about seventy-five miles northwest of Jacksonville. This lake rivals the famous valley of Sinbad the Sailor. It is thought to average 2,000 feet down to the water all around. The walls are almost perpendicular, running down into the water and leaving no beach. The depth of the water is unknown, and its surface is smooth and unruffled, as it lies so far beneath the surface of the mountain that the air currents do not affect it. Its length is estimated at twelve miles and its breadth at ten. No living man ever has, and probably never will be able to reach the water's edge. It lies silent, still and mysterious in the bosom of the "everlasting hills"—like a huge well, scooped out by the hands of the great genii of the mountain, in unknown ages gone by, and around it the primeval forests, watch and ward are keeping. The visiting party fired a rifle several times into the water, at an angle of forty-five degrees, and were able to note several seconds of time from the report of the gun until the ball struck the water.—Such seems incredible, but it is vouched for by some of our most reliable citizens. The lake is certainly a most remarkable curiosity.

DENOMINATIONAL OXEN.—A gentleman traveling in Texas met on the road a wagon drawn by four oxen driven by a countryman, who, in addition to the skillful flourish, and crack of the whip, was vociferously encouraging horses after this fashion: "Haw Presbyterian!" "Gee Baptist!" "Woah Episcopalian!" "Get up Methodist!" The traveler stopped the driver, remarking to him that he had strange names for his oxen, and would like to know why he thus called them. Said the driver, I call this ox Presbyterian because he is true blue and never fails, pulls through all difficulties and holds out to the end; besides he knows more than all the rest. I call this Baptist, because he is always after water and seems as though he'd never drink enough; then again he wont eat with the others. I call this ox Episcopalian because he has a mighty way of holding his head up, and if the yokes get a little to tight, he tries to kick and draw clear out of the track. I call this ox Methodist, because the puffs and blows and bellows as he goes along, and you'd think he was pulling all creation, but he don't pull a pound, unless you continually stir him up.

FIVE CHILDREN THROWN INTO A WELL BY THE FATHER.—A shocking occurrence took place last month at Foxdale, in the Isle of Man. A miner named Killy, who was subject to fits of depression and lowness of spirits, acting under the influence of groundless fear of the loss of employment, made up his mind to destroy himself and family. He accordingly walked out of his house into a field where three of his children were playing, and threw them, one by one, down a well. His wife, who heard their screams, ran out of the house to the well, with a baby in arms; he wrenched the baby out of her arms and tried to throw his wife after the child, but she escaped. The fifth child, who had been sent for assistance, now came up, and he threw her down the well and plunged in after her. The bodies were soon recovered, chiefly by the gallantry of a man who descended into the well at the risk of his life. Two of the children survived; the rest, with the father, were brought up dead.

AMONG THE SHAKERS.—Among the rules posted in the office of a hotel in a Shaker village in New Hampshire is the following:

"Married persons tarrying with us over night are respectfully notified that each sex occupy separate apartments while they remain."

Some time since a newly married couple on a bridal trip visited the Shakers. The evening was spent in talk—bedtime came—and the couple were invited to sleep. They passed out of the office, up stairs, there they saw two sober-faced Shakers, a "brother ,, and "sister." each with a candle.

"Man to the left!" said the brother and into a room he escorted the bridegroom.

"Woman to the right!" as quickly said the sister, and into a separate room the bride was ushered—the newly-made man and wife separating without even a good-night kiss.

THE young lady who was recommended to take exercise to improve her health, says that she will "jump at an offer and run her own risk?"

THE time for the completion of the Western Pacific Railroad from Oakland to Stockton is estimated at ten months.

IN Algeria, Africa, and near the towns where Marius mused and Cato practiced phlebotomy, land of first quality can be had from $1 to $1 25 an acre.

G. W. BEY, a poor Illinois boy, drew the prize of a house and lot, valued at $15,000, in a St. Louis lottery, recently.

FOUR hundred thousand pairs of shoes are now manufacturdd in Lynn in one week.

VARIETY IN FARMING.—The tenednoy of farming in this country has been toward specialties. Before the war of the rebellion the South grew cotton; it bought its food, its clothing, its luxuries; individuals grew rich and the people and soil grew poor.

The Prairie States raised corn, which was sold for ten cents der bushel, burned for fuel, and monetary panics became chronic in the West.

New England and the Middle States practiced variety in farming, and the water-wheel and steam engine worked everywhere in sight of the plow and reaper. With them flourished a staple prosperity, and they stood, best of all, the terrible drain of resources.

Looking the world over, in the past or present, we find those communities and nations which found their agriculture on the fewest varieties of products, likewise the least prosperous, powerful, and stable. The practice of devoting the farm mainly to the growth of a single product, is opposed to all principles of scientific and common-sense agriculture. The one-product system of necessity abstracts from the soil more than it can legitimately return; it demands continuously the same mechanical and chemical conditions of the soil, like elements of plant food, and the point may be reached where the single variety will fail altogether, yet leave the earth capable of producing other crops abundantly. Thus it seems as if nature herself declared against this system by refusing to support it any length of time in one locality. The one-crop farmer is also less independent than if practicing mixed husbandry, inasmuch as he is compelled to demand to a certain extent on the market to supply his family and the demands of his business. Neither can he conduct his labor with the same economy that he could if growing a variety of crops. At certain seasons he has little to do, and at others he is overwhelmed with work. His risks also are greater approximating to those of commercial transactions, without having the compensatory chances of equally large profits.

Variety of crops also makes variety of work, which relieves the tediousness of business. In short, a mixed husbandry is the only scientific, common-sense, self-sustaining, and, therefore, permanent system of agriculture; it renders the farm, the community, and the nation independent, and its fitness is recognized, in the light of the recent changes, both in the corn and wheat fields of the West and on the cotton lands of the South.—State Capital Reporter.

A CURE FOR JEALOUSY.—A Hawaiian who had been for some time working on one of the Guano Islands, was paid off lately, and found himself the happy possessor of $140 in cash. With this little fortune in hand, he proceeded to enjoy himself generally, instead of returning home and sharing the proceeds of his honest labor with his wife, who naturally believes herself entitled to some consideration. Of course the money quickly disappeared, and the penniless and repentant husband turned to his home, seeking perhaps sympathy in his troubles, where in his prosperity he had only proffered forgetfulness and neglect; but the indignant wife soon informed him that he was not welcome; indeed, that his conduct was inexcusable, and that her aloha for him was pau. Jealousy added its sting to the reproaches of the angered wife, and therefore no amount of protestations of innocence, or explanation could bring about a reconciliation. The time had passed beyond the arbitrament of reason, and an appeal was made by the husband to a learned kahuna, after due deliberation decided that Kaaliaau should submit his case to the mano (shark) by jumping overboard after nightfall, when sharks are most numerous in the harbor and most ravenous for food, and if Shark let him off, the wife could do no less. He must also, while in the water, inform the finny judges of his case, by shouting pau, Pele qua Meno, when, if innocent, he would escape to the shore unharmed; but if guilty, would be needed out at sea. This appeal to the mano is one of the old Hawaiian superstitions, the efficacy of which is not esteemed among the educated Hawaiians to-day. It is not a more absurd superstition than that on which was founded the duello, or the smoking out of a salem witch, or any of those crucial tests which in the middle ages were supposed to be potent to discover the innocent and overwhelmn the guilty. The appeal to the shark was made on Thursday night by Kaailaau jumping off the steamboat wharf, and, as nothing happened, he swam across the reef and landed near the foot of Richard street. A crowd of natives gathered around him, and the wife with her jealousy dispelled, received him again at his house, and the family discord was fully disposed of. What the sharks thought of the case has not transpired, but, as they did not sup on the swimmer, it is fair to conclude they did not comprehend the chance that was offered to them of making an excellent meal on a delinquent husband. If the appeal to the mano was universally imperative on demand, by indignant wives, we fear that now and then a citizen might be carried out to sea.—Hawaiian Gazette.

A VACUUM filled.

DUTCH FLAT ENQUIRER.

SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1868.

TO PRINTERS.

THE undersigned being about to engage in business elsewhere offers the material upon which the ENQUIRER is printed at a bargain, together with one of the best Job Offices in the State, consisting of

A LARGE ASSORTMENT of the latest style of
PLAIN AND FANCY JOB TYPE!
A No. 4 Washington Press, and a large size Ruggles'
JOB ENGINE.

The material is as good as new, and the presses in first rate order. Inquire at this office.

E. B. BOUST.

FAULT FINDING.—We have heard that some parties who do not subscribe for the ENQUIRER, and who never see a copy only when they steal one from a neighbor, have been finding fault with the ENQUIRER because it does not contain more reading matter. What we want to say to these croakers is that the reason you do not appreciate our paper is because you do not have a clear conscience when you read it. The ghost of some poor, half-starved printer is constantly rising up before you, and of course makes the reading of a stolen paper distasteful. Now one of these fellows, who has lived in Dutch Flat ever since the first issue of the ENQUIRER, and God only knows how long before, and, we believe, has never yet invested a single dime in the purchase of a paper, had the brazen-faced impudence to find fault with the ENQUIRER in the presence of an attache of this office, for the reasons stated above. Could such shameless brassiness be surpassed? We think not, but we do know that there are at least twenty in town who can equal him in bare-faced impudence and parsimoniousness.

RUNAWAY.—On Monday last the horses attached to the Little York stage, became frightened at the engine, attached to one of the freight trains, blowing off steam, and started on a run from the depot for town. When near the residence of Mr. Kruger, the horses made a sudden turn to get into the road, and threw the driver Mr. Colby, headlong to the ground, but fortunately not injuring him in the least; the horses pursuing the even, or uneven tenor of their way down the hill toward town, with the stage flying after them. They deposited the body and hind wheels of the stage in front of Schwab's warehouse on Sacramento street, but took the front wheels with them, in their frightful run, through town and down on the Bear river grade. When near Bear river one of the horses fell down and thus put an end to the race.

THE BLIND MUSICIANS.—On Thursday evening the celebrated Pioneer Blind troup paid our town a visit and favored us with one of their pleasing and acceptable musical entertainments, which was freely patronized by our citizens. The members of this troupe are worthy gentlemen, and they are deserving of success.—We hope that they will meet with unbounded success wherever they may go.

A ROLLING STONE.—On last Saturday morning, we are informed, as the passenger train was coming down from Cisco, a large boulder rolled out of the bank above and struck the engine, breaking it so as to render it temporarily useless. Another engine was immediately sent for and the train came through all right. No body was injured.

THE calico party gotten up under the supervision of the ladies of Gold Run, was a decided success. The money raised will be applied to the building of an addition to the primary department of the public school house at that place. The citizens of Gold Run are liberal and the ladies are public-spirited and enterprising.

ACCIDENT.—On Monday last as Mr. H. C. Kelsey, was at work in the Summerset claim, he stepped upon a piece of board, in which was an old nail, and drove the nail nearly through his foot causing a very pain ful wound, which will lay him up for some time.

WE made an error a few weeks since in stating that the house of Mr. Williams of Green Valley had been torn down by the citizens of that place. The house destroyed belonged to a Mr. Barber, and was pulled down at his own instance.

SCARCITY OF MINERS.—We have this week heard several parties inquiring for miners to work in their hydraulic claims, but we are informed that they are not to be had in this vicinity.

QUARTERLY MEETING;—The Rev. N. R. Beck will preach Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening, at the M. E. Church.

THE Fourth of July will be here very soon. Will it not be celebrated in Dutch Flat?

WE return thanks to Major Stratman, for a budget of Eastern periodicals.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.—On Sunday as a Mr. Myers of Colfax, proprietor of a livery stable in that place, was bringing M. D. Hatch, formerly of Indian Springs, but recently of Carson City, from Colfax to Grass Valley, a couple of highwaymen stopped out from the bushes and ordered the travelers to stand and deliver, which, notwithstanding Mr. Myers had quite recently said he should like to see the men who could stop him on the road, they found quite healthy to do, Mr. Hatch singing to the tune of $85, and Myers to the tune of all he had with him, which amount we did not learn. A few days ago a lady was robbed of her finger rings on the same road, near the same place and probably by the same K. K. K's.

THE Oregon Unionist says the late Democratic Legislature of California enacted a penalty of fifteen years imprisonment for killing jackasses. It also authorized Conservational Democrats to rob Chinamen at will having deprived the latter of the right to testify in court. An enlightened policy.

ADONIZERS.—Col. Walsh the Fenian organizer; Elder Knapp the sinners' agonizer and Ned Buntline King Alcohol's annihilator, are each laboring earnestly in their respective spheres and are said to be meeting with great (pecuniary) success. Verily, the righteous receive their reward in unrighteous mammon.

THE SITUATION ACCEPTED.

Among all the prominent citizens and statesmen of the United States, no one could have been selected as the candidate of the Union party for President, that would have given such universal satisfaction as U. S. Grant. Through all the Eastern, Middle, Southern and Western States, so far as heard from, the party receive the announcement of his nomination with the roar of canon, and the shouts of brave and patriotic men, who have fought in the trenches with him and spilled their blood on many a Southern plain, defending the dear old flag, and our country's Constitution. Never, within our recollection, with the single exception of the renomination of the lamented Lincoln, has any man been placed before the people, by a party, for the office of President of the United States, whose chances for an election seemed more certain than does General Grant's to-day. The party and the independent press are a unit in his favor; not a single regret have we seen expressed by any paper, that some other person was not nominated in his stead; or the expression that he was not their first choice; all agree that it is the wisest nomination that could possibly have been made. The party break in this State seems to be healed, and the "long hairs" and "short hairs" are pulling in the harness together, as they did in days of yore; from all sides are heard the expressions of determination to work for the election of Grant and Colfax till the last moment.—With such enthusiasm pervading the minds of the rank and file, defeat is impossible.—Already recruits from the Democratic party are flocking in to the Union ranks in numbers, and the cry is "still they come!"

Grant's cool, determined and judicious manners have won for him the confidence and esteem of his political enemies; a man of few words but of great deeds he stands preeminent before the people to-day. Colfax, as a statesman, has few superiors; honest and courteous, wise and just, he stands forth an unexceptionable candidate for Vice-President.

The night after his nomination Grant was serenaded and made the following speech which is characteristic of the man. On being introduced by Boutwell of Massachusetts, he said:

"GENTLEMEN: Being entirely unaccustomed to public speaking, and without a desire to cultivate that power, it is impossible for me to find language to thank you for this demonstration. All I can say is this, that to whatever position I may be called by you, I will endeavor to discharge its duties with fidelity and honesty of purpose. Of my rectitude in the performance of public duties you will have to judge, yourselves, by my record of the past."

Short and sweet. No promises of duty in any single line, but a promise to discharge his duty, to his whole country with a "fidelity and honesty of purpose." Could more be asked? He shows conclusively that he is not a political demagogue, but that he is a man who has the best interests of his country at heart, and will work unceasingly for its good. The Times says:

General Grant's brief speech to his serenaders in Washington is just such a one as the character of the man would lead us to expect. There is no attempt at eloquence, no profusion of promises. His only pledge is, that if elected he will endeavor to perform the duties of his office faithfully and honestly; and as earnest that he will do this, he merely points to his record of the past. What is that record? That in every position to which he has been called, he has, without unnecessary words or noise, done his whole duty, conscientiously, faithfully, brilliantly. The most successful soldier of the war, he has since its close occupied, as head of the army, a position of great responsibility and delicacy. Everything that it devolved upon him to do has been well done, while in nothing has he ever sought to grasp power that did not belong to him, or to attract applause. He has shown himself an able, conscientious, plain, straightforward man, whose eloquence is entirely that of deeds; who can neither be intimidated, bribed nor used, but who will obey the law and carry into effect the popular will without thought for his own angrandizement. He has not sought the nomination, it has been given to him by no clique of politicians, but by the spontaneous demand of the people, and, elected by them, he will enter upon the discharge of Presidential duties without fear or favor. Judging from his past career, we know that as Chief Magistrate of the nation his administration will be marked by the same qualities which he has displayed in the field, in headquarters at Washington, and in the office of Secretary of War.

DEATH OF RASEY BIVEN.—With this issue devolves upon us the peculiar and painful duty of recording the death of Rasey Biven, Esq., late editor of the Monterey Democrat. Our readers have doubtless been aware that he has for some time been seriously ill, but his friends entertained no immediate apprehension of his decease until a few days since, when it became apparent to all that he was rapidly sinking, and that the end was near. On Thursday, the 21st he quietly passed away, surrounded by his heart-broken family and a number of friends.—Monterey Democrat.

GOLD IN UTAH.—The Salt Lake Reporter reports a gold excitement in that city. The placers, whether new discoveries or old ones, are in Bingham Canyon, and there is considerable travel thither. The Reporter says:

The richness of this gold field is beyond dispute; its extent is the only question.—The commonest dirt there pays from two to four bits to the pan, and those who have their ditches in operation, and are working in the regular way, are making from eight to twenty-eight dollars a day to the hand. We wait for a little more confirmation of the reports afloat.

RANCH SOLD.—The Escondado Rancho, in San Diego county, containing three leagues, was sold to Messrs. McGray and Wolfskill, of Solano county, last week. The pirce paid for it, including 600 head of ranch cattle and 200 head of ranch horses, etc., is said to be $31,000. It is a fine rancho, and the stock that was sold with it is as fine as any in this part of the State. Besides this there is a gold bearing quartz ledge on it that yields rock that assays fifty dollars to the ton.

WE have received from M. Gray, Music Publisher, San Francisco, a song entitled "Not for Joseph." It is melodiously comic in sentiment and measure, rich in the peculiarities popular at the Bay, and quite faithfully reflects the musical taste and jingle of the times.

A NEW Masonic Hall is being built at Moore's Flat, Nevada county on the site of the old one which was crushed by the snow last winter. It is expected to be completed by the Fourth of July.

SETTLE up.

PREPARE FOR THE FIGHT.

Although the ultimate success of the Union Republican ticket in this State, admits of but little doubt, yet it would be well for the members of the party to be up and doing. The enemy are on the alert and they will permit no opportunity to pick up a weak-kneed Republican to slip. Already they are throwing their dirty missles into the Republican camps; hurling their vile invectives at the heads of the leaders of the party, and calling Grant a drunkard and a Digger Indian miscegenationist. The ball must be kept rolling. In every town Grant and Colfax clubs should be formed and ratification meetings held. Keep the people truly and correctly posted upon the issues of the day, and no fears need be entertained but what they will do their duty at the polls. In almost every village on the coast demonstrations of some kind have been made in honor of the Chicago nominations. Can not Dutch Flat do something? It will refresh and reinvigorate the party feeling in this vicinity to have a salute, and ratification meeting. If we have not talent enough to entertain an audience let us import some from some of our neighboring towns; but let us by all means prepare for the fight. The Union columns are forming in the East, and preparations for a warm and vigorous campaign are being made, let us of the Pacific Coast not be behind. The enemy will fight vigorously; it is a question of life and death with them. If they fail in this campaign their prestige will have passed away from them forever and they be numbered among the things that were. Hence, they will contest the field most stubbornly. They will stoop to lowest things; baser deceptions, if possible will be practiced, and impositions of all characters will stalk abroad. Think thrice, before you decide upon anything you see or hear politically. Make it your especial duty to see your neighbor; remind him of the neceisity of action. Work! Work! Work! early and late be at your post, and on the last day you will receive your reward by an overwhelming victory.

AN INDIGNANT SPIRITIST.—Not long ago Todd, the Spiritists lecturer took mortal offense at something in the Dramatic Chronicle in regard to "table-tipping itinerant lecturers," and wrote word to the Chronicle man, that there would be a "personal difficulty" in case his name was ever again disrespectfully used in the waspish little paper. The Chronicle straightway published the letter, and went on poking fun at the writer worse than ever, announcing every day, "We have not been caned yet;" "we have not yet had the top of our head blowed off;" "our bowels have not been let out yet," etc. McDonald, of the Salem Unionist, who doesn't love the Chronicle man much, and who once described him as "a diminutive Bohemian, whose Digger locks sweep a greasy semicircle on the back of his coat," thus refers to the expected combat:

Benjamin Todd, of the Banner of Progress, has formally notified the editor of the Dramatic Chronicle, that the latter may not sass him any more, on pain of personal difficulty. As Todd fights with ghostly weapons, and the other is not bigger than a spike-tail grass-hopper, a most sanguinary encounter is expected.—News.

TRAGEDY AT EUREKA.—From a gentleman who came from Eureka yesterday, we learn that the statements in regard to the killing of Bohannon and the stabbing of Regan are very conflicting. One statement is that Bohannon and Smalley were quarrelling, and Regan told Bohannon that Smalley had a knife, says the Transcript. Almost as soon as he had uttered the words he was stabbed in the leg, and then Bohannon cried, "Regan, I'm killed." Regan immediately started across the street to call help, but fell on the way. Bohannon was taken care of by his friends, and a physician sent for. He was stabbed in the lower part of the abdomen, and lingered until yesterday morning, when he died.—Smalley gave himself up, and his examination took place before Justice Ballard yesterday morning. The result we have not learned. The affray occurred in Mike Hays' saloon. The deceased leaves a wife and eight children. He has resided in this county since 1853, has always been regarded as a good citizen and a peacable man, and his loss will be deeply felt in the community. He kept a store in Eureka at the time of his death.

CHANGE OF FRONT.—We are glad to see that the Sacramento Union has let down a little on the Government issues. It has for a long time spoken of our papers as "irredeemable." In an editorial of yesterday it evidehtly wishes to take it all back. It speaks of one thousand millions of what it heretofore termed irredeemable paper as being held by the day laborers, the sewing women, small farmers and domestics, and adds that "it is the policy of the democratic party to repudiate." To speak of the Government paper as irredeemable, is just as bad as to talk of repudiation. We trust that the Union has learned a lesson by its inconsistent course last Fall, and we forgive its numerous errors of judgement if remedied by a return to the path of political rectitude. The psalmist Watts wrote that "while the lamp holds out to burn, the vilest sinner may return."—Record.

SWEETWATER.—We clip the following items from the Cheynne (Dakota) Commercial, of May 4th, in regard to the Sweetwater country:

A late arrival from the Sweetwater country, says several rich placers have been discovered, and mining is being prosecuted with a vim. People are flocking into South Pass City from every point of the compass. Miner's wages range from $3 50 to $5 per day, and provisions are getting cheaper and plentiful. The ledges or lodes already opened are paying will and get richer as they are worked deeper. Several new towns are being laid out within a radius of fifteen miles of South Pass City, and considerable land has been taken up for farming purposes.

A PRINTER DECORATED.—The Emperor of the French lately created Mr. Paul Dupont, proprietor of a printing establishment, an officer of the Legion of Honor. A deputation from the printing office waited on the Emperor with an addresss of thanks, signed by the eleven hundred workmen employed. The Emperor, in reply, said that the honor had been conferred on Mr. Dupont because he had introduced into his establishment the principle of co-operation, which tended to create a unity of interests between masters and the r operatives.

RHEUMATISM WEED.—There is growing in this vicinity, and we suppose elsewhere over the State, a species of weed which has been named as above from its efficacy in curing rheumatism, ague, etc. We are informed that now is the proper time to gather it, in order to render it fit for practical use. It is prepared by putting the leaves in a bottle and filling with liquor.—We are informed by one who has given it a thorough trial that it is an effectual remedy and he is desirous that the public should have the benefit of it.—Butte Record.

POETICAL.

The following lines are but a portion of a beautiful "pome" which has been handed us for publication. The writer is evidently a good poet, but in this instance the "demon" of love seems to be troubling his mind, causing it to wander at times. After invoking his muse he says:

"In this land where fabled riches lie
Beneath the surface buried,
I siezed my own poetic lyre
And to yon mountain hurried."

It is well he took his "own poetic lyre," for had he taken any body else's he might have been pursued by the Constable, and thus the world would have lost this grand production of his. He neglects to state what was the cause of his hurry to reach "yon mountain" but instead pours forth an innumerable number of lines to his "Mary Jane," which in touching pathos, and elegance of language and metrical construction are hardly surpassed by that profound and grand old poem "The Frenchman's Address to the Frog." We will give one verse;

"Oh beautious maid, Oh charming one
My thoughts toward thee are ever soaring,
Thy symetrical form has some
Of the appearance of water from
A smooth hydraulic nozzle flowing."

To the poetic eye of a miner this comparison will be positively beautiful and electrifying. If his fair one smashes up things in the same manner that a stream of "water from a smooth hydraulic nozzle flowing" does, he had better not get hold of her as she might be more than he could manage. Our poet not being satisfied with the inspiration which he received from his first invocation of the muse, again launches forth a prayer for sublimer thoughts in the following manner:

"I pray thee Muse my brain inspire
With honied words and thoughts sublime,
That I may sing with better measure
The praises of my Angeline."

In a note at the bottom of his production he informs us that the name of the object of his affections is not Angeline, but Mary Jane, but that poetic license permits the substitution in order to "obtain a better rhyme." The muse seems to have heard his call and inspired his brain with a new dose of "poetic fire;" as he sends forth in trippling measure the following joyous lines:

"The flowers, the birds and flowing waters
Proclaim in notes almost divine,
That she is one of heaven's loviest daughters
And in any place would shine."

Pegasus seems to have got to going too fast for him and unhorsed him, and left him grovelling in the dust of earth, for we find in the verse following;

"But, oh, my brain in madness reels
As grovelling in the dust I find,
That earth is hard as any steel
Yet naught is hurt save my [behind]."

We were unable to decide from the manuscript whether the last word of the above was "mind" or "behind," so we used the one which we thought would be most likely to get hurt in such a castrophy as he has so graphically described. We would give a few more extracts from the remaining sixty-five or seventy verses, but we do not think our readers could take such a large dose of diluted "divine afflatus" at one time, so we forbear.

Should our poet see fit to favor us with any more of his productions we shall be pleased to give our readers the benefit of them.

PREACHING at the Union Church to-morrow morning at the usual hours.

THERE will be preaching in the M. E. Church on Sunday at the usual hours, morning and evening.

CLERICAL HYPOCRITES.—A lot of nasal-twanged, abolition clerical hypocrites—styling themselves the Methodist Conference met in Chicago last week, and instead of devoting their time to the salvation of their ungodly souls, passed a lot of "resolutions regarding the impeachment trial," and appointed an hour for prayer and "invoking God to save Senators from error, and to influence their decision according to truth and righteousness"(!)" We are at a loss to know which clique is most in need of prayer—the rump Senators, or the clerical hypocrites of the so-called conference.

The above we clip from the Amador Dispatch a hebdomadel hybrid journal, published at Jackson. The forcible arguments set forth show to the reader, at once, that the journal refered to is Democratic. The publication of the article with the statement where it originated will do the Union party more good than all the comments that could possibly be made upon it.

READY FOR A FIGHT.—The Alta reports the following yarn:

"The Citizen Sam Platt, who would rather die than tell anything not strictly true, gets off a good thing in regard to a specimen of the genus Pike who came on board a street car from the San Jose cars, half tight and with a navy-sized Colt's revolver slung to his belt. When the conductor came round for his fare Pike had his head down and the Citizen nudged him gently and pointed to the taker of tickets, by way of reminding him that it was time to pull out the paste board. Pike started up suddenly on being touched and as he looked toward the conductor saw him go down in his pocket and commence to bring up something heavy, which glistened in the light like a brass-mounted pistol. At a bound Pike was on his feet, and going for his revolver, which he produced ready-cocked, with the remark, "Whoop! that's my style stranger! I'll show you blamed quick what it cost to draw a pistol on me!" The Citizen threw himself between them just in season to pervent bloodshed, but had hard work for some time to convince Pike that the conductor's nippers, which he had taken out to punch his ticket with, did not come under the head of deadly weapons, and that he was not "on the shoot."

STATE PRISON PRINTING.—The New York legislature contracted with parties to allow the services of 75 convicts at Sing Sing in printing, stereotyping, electrotyping, etc. On looking through the prison no printers could be found. The intention was, to train the convicts to the work. The typographical society here took up the case, and protested against prostituting. The Art Preservative in this manner. The Assembly has passed a bill abrogating the contract, and the contractors talk of coming on the State for damages. A proposition was made in the Ohio Legislature—in 1849, if we remember right—to establish a State Printing Office in the Columbus State Prison. It was found that not a printer was incarcerated, with whom to begin the work. It was suggested that printers could be employed to instruct convicts. That failed; and when the talk of importing an instruction force came up, indignation rose so high that the bill was incontinently tabled, and the author never got back to the Legislature.—Trespass.

SOME years since, while residing in the city of Providence, we heard much said in Praise of Perry Davis' Pain Killer. We listened incredulously to these testimonials. Well, health failing, as a last resort, the doctors sent us to Minnesota. The winter was intensely cold, and a terrible form of Neuralgia prevailed among the settlers, and we fell into the grasp of the disease, and day and night, for weeks, endured untold agony. Many remedies were tried without avail. One day, however, a stalwart frontiersman entered the room, bearing in his hand a vial partly filled with a reddish liquid. It was some of the Pain Killer. He had bought in California three years before, and had kept it with miserly care until then. Applying it externally and internally gave immediate relief. Since then, we have recommended it successfully in cases that baffled the best medical skill; and, when we see persons reject this remedy, we recall our own experience, and think that the time may come when pain incurable by other agents, may teach them the value of this great discovery.—Home Monthly. c21 1m

HOPE FOR THE AFFLICTED.—In another part of this paper will be found the advertisement of the celebrated Institute established by Dr. J. C. YOUNG, in 1850. In this age of deceit and charlatanism, it is a boon to the suffering to point out to them where they are sure of obtaining the wished for relief and cure. Under the care of the skillful Doctor the sickand troubled can divest themselves of their burdens of pain; lay aside their cross, and secure health and happiness. If you are sick or in trouble, do not hesitate. Read the advertisement and follow the advice. Do not forget the number or the manner of directing your letters. Consultation Office, 540, Washington street, San Francisco.

MEDICAL ADVICE.—DR. WM. K. DOHERTY'S Medical and Surgical Institute is becoming a sine qua non to the welfare of our State and health of our citizens; and his rapidly spreading reputation, although it may excite surprise, is but the signal of skill, and follows as the natu result of such a cause. We are personally acquainted with gentlemen who had suffered for years under chronic disease, and who had taken advantage of every available means that promised relief, but without success, until they called upon Dr. Doherty, who, in an incredibly short space of time, has given them entire relief. It is gratifying to announce this fact, because the Dr. is a gentleman who seeks, not by defamation of others to establish his reputation or ruin of another's fame. The Doctor conducts his own Institute in such a manner must be gratifying to all his patients. He examines, advises, and recommends without charge, and the patient, after hearing his terms for treatment, can accept or reject at pleasure. In no case does the Doctor make a charge unless he effects a cure. This he is able to do, because he feels the confidence which long experience has given, and no doubt consolation which appertain to that confidence. Persons afflicted with either acute or chronic disease, would do well to consult the Doctor; at all events, it can do no harm, as for consultation he asks no fee; nor does he insist on obedience to his advice unless the patient places himself under his care. His offices are on Sacramento street, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship office.—News

1 BETTER THAN 10.

SARSAPARILLIAN!

(PREPARED FROM VACUO.)

The Curative Principle of Sarsaparilla enters largely into the composition of

R. R. R.

RESOLVENT.

One Bottle of Resolvent Better than Ten Large Bottles of Sarsaparilla.

One Bottle will Purify the Blood, and Expel Corruption from the Body!

So swift is this remedy in entering into the circulation, that it has been detected in the blood and urine in six minutes after it has been taken.

☞ 1 BETTER THAN 10 ☜

R. R. R. Resolvent cures with astonishing rapidity every form ot Chronic, Scrofulous and Skin Diseases, and exterminates all corruption from the human system.

One bottle of Dr. Radway's Renovating Resolvent contains more of the active curative principles of the best Jamaica Sarsaparilla, (Sarsaparillian,) than Ten of the largest size bottles of the mixture sold under the name of Sarsaparilla.

The process adopted by Dr. Radway in securing extracts (prepared in vacuo,) of Medicinal Roots, Plants, Herbs, and other vegetables possessing great curative properties over Scrofula, Chronic, Syphilic and skin diseases, that enters into the composition of the Renovating Resolvent, produces only ONE OUNCE of the pure extract out of 20 lbs of crude roots. The inert matter that enters so generally in the large bottle mixtures and prepared under the officinal or pharmacopeia formula, is, by Dr. Radway's process, cast aside as rubbish.

One teaspoonful of the Resolvent is sufficient for a dose for all Skin, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Blotches, Sores and Eruptions of the Skin, Humors in the Blood, &c.

One teaspoonful, three times a day, will, in a few days, make the Blood pure, the Skin clear, the Eyes bright, the Complexion smooth and transparent, the Hair strong, and remove all Sores, Pimples, Blotches, Pustules, Tetters, Cankers, &c., from the Head, Face, Neck, Mouth and Skin. It is pleasant to take, and the dose is small.

The first dose that is taken seizes on the disease and commences its work of resolving away all diseased deposits, Purifying the Blood, and driving corruption from the system.

The Renovating Resolvent, if used in any of the following named complaints, will positively cure the patient:

Skin Diseases, Caries of the Bones, Humors in the Blood, Constitutional, Chronic and Scrofulous Diseases, Scrofula, Syphilis, Fever, Ulcers, Sores, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Rickets, Scald Head, Cankers, Sore Legs, White Swellings, Glandular Swellings, Boils, Nodes, Sore Ears, Sore Eyes, Strumous Discharges from the Ear, Opthalmia, Itch, Constitutional Debility, Skin Eruptions, Wasting and Decay of the Body, Pimples and Blotches, Tumors, Cancerous Affections, Dyspepsia, Water Brash, Neuralgia, Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Diseases of the Kidneys, Bladder, Urethra, Strictures, Difficulty of Passing Water, Calculous Deposits &c.

ALARMING INCREASE OF BLADDER, KIDNEY and CALCULOUS DISEASES.

The annual reports of the Health Commssioners of different cities, show a great increase of deaths from diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs—RADWAY'S RENOVATING RESOLVENT is the only remedy that has dissolved calculous concretion.

Its SOLVENT, diuretic, lithontriptic and tonic properties exceed that of any medicine in the world; it readily assimilates with the fluids, and promotes their exit through the Kidneys, Urethra and Bladder, removing calculous obstructions, and correcting all derangements of these organs.

So swift is this remedy in passing into the circulation, that it has been detected in the urine in six minutes after it has been taken; by adding to the liquid when cold a few pieces of starch, then a few drops of nitric acid, the liquid will change to a blue color. When brick dust, or a thick white deposit, like the white of an egg, (albumen,) is detected in the vessel, or bloody discharges from the urethra, or micturating in drops, accompanied by a burning or scalding pain—the RESOLVENT should be used and R. R. RELIEF rubbed on the spine, &c.

A great French Physician says: "More than half of the disease in the world comes from neglect to fortify the system against changes of climate, weather and food. The great secret of health is to keep the condition of the Stomach and Blood regular and uniform, so that changes from Heat to Cold, from Dry to Damp, etc., cannot upset the machinery of the body, and breed disease."

Now, it is a fact, positive and well known, that there is no such bulwark and assistant for the Stomach as

PLANTATION BITTERS.

This splendid tonic is now used by all classes of people for every symptom of a "Stomach of order."

The secret of it is this: Plantation Bitters are certain to correct the juices of the Stomach set all its machinery at work, and enable it to resist and throw off the approaching danger The tendeny of the operations of Nature is always towards a cure; all she needs is a little assistance at the proper time. How much more reasonable and sensible it is to help her along with a gentle, yet powerful Tonic, than to deluge and weaken and defeat her curative processes with poisonous drugs and fiery mixtures, which only stupify and plant the seeds of disease and death.

Important Certificates.

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer.

The public may rest assured that in no case will the perfectly pure standard of the PLANTATION BITTERS be departed from. Every bottle bears the fac-simile of our signature on a steel plate engraving, or it cannot be genuine.

Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon, is a swindler and impostor. Beware of refilled bottles. See that our private stamp is UNMUTILATED over every cork.

LORA LOGIE.

Softly and tenderly,
Lora Logie,
Fall the dark night shadows
Over the sea;
And over this sea of years,
Ruffled by raining tears,
Float through a mist of fears,
Echoes of thee!

Faintfully and fitfully,
Lora Logie,
Mornfully, tenderly,
(Ah, me! Ah, me!)
Notes like the bell-bird, still,
Or the weird whippoorwill,
Follow me, fit to fill
Sad memory!

Hintingly, hauntingly,
Laura Logie,
As vespers, mellowly,
Musically,
Out from the convent bell
Ave Marias swell
For the dead day, Ah, well!
Lora Logie!

Deftly and daintily,
Lora Logie,
Thoughts of thee giddily,
Unbiddenly,
On the tight-rope of fantasy,
O'er the gulf of our destiny,
Walking mysteriously,
Cross o'er to me!

Mentally, tearfully,
Lora Logie,
I wave them back to thee—
O, pardon me!
But (God forgive me!) yet,
While such thoughts beset,
How can my soul forget
Lora Logie?

MEDICAL.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH!

Every Man His Own Physician.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS,

AND

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT!

Disorders of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

The Stomach is the great centre which influences the health or disease of the system—Abused or debilitated by excess—indigestion, offensive breath and physical prostration are the natural consequences. Allied to the brain, it is the source of headaches, fllental depression, nervous complaints and unrefreshing sleep. The Liver becomes affected and generates bilious disorders, pains in the side, &c. The Bowels sympathize by Costiveness, Diarrhœa and Dysentery. The principal action of these Pills is on the stomach, and the liver, lungs, bowels and kidneys participate in their recuperative and regenerative operation.

Erysipelas and Salt Rheum,

Are two of the most common and virulent disorders prevalent on this continent, to these the Ointment is especially antagonistic, its "modus operandi" is first to eradicate the venom and then complete the cure.

Bad Legs, Old Sores, and Ulcers.

Cases of many years' standing, that have per tinaciously refused to yield to any other remedy or treatment, have invariably succumbed to a few applications of this powerful ungnent.

Eruptions on the Skin.

Arising from a bad state of the blood of chronic biseases, are eradicated, and a clear and transparent surface regained by the restorative actton of this Ointment. It surpasses many of the cosmetics and other toilet appliances in its power to dispel rashes and other disfigurements of the face.

Female Complaints.

Whether in the young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these tonic medicines display so decided an influence that a marked improvement is soon perceptible in the health of the patient. Being a purely vegetable preparation, they are a safe and reliable remedy for all classes of Females in every condition of health and station of life.

Piles and Fistula.

Every form and feature of these prevalent and stubborn disorders is eradicated locally and entirely by the use of this emolient; warm fomentations should precede its application. Its healing qualities will be found to be thorough and invariable.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bunions,	Piles,	Sore Legs,
Burns,	Rheumatism,	Sore Breasts,
Chilblains,	Ringworm,	Sore Heads,
Fistula,	Salt Rheum,	Sore Throats,
Gout	Scalds,	Sprains,
Stiff Joints,	Tetter.	Ulcers.
Lumbago,	Skin Diseases	Venereal Sores,
Sores of all kinds,	Mercurial Eruptions,
Swelled Glands,	Wounds of all kinds.

CAUTION.—None are genuine unless the words "HOLLOWAY, NEW YORK AND LONDON," are discernible as a Water Mark in every leaf of the book of directions around each pot or box; the same may be plainly seen by holding the leaf to the light. A handsome reward will be given to any one rendering such information as may lead to the detection of any party or parties counterfeiting the medicines or vending the same, knowing them to be spurious.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers'

Jewelry Association

Calls your attention to the fact of its being the largest and most popular Jewelry Association in United States. The business is and always has been conducted in the most candid and honorable manner. Our rapidly increasing trade is a sure guarantee of the appreciation of our patrons for this method of obtaining rich, elegant and costly goods. The sudden stagnation of trade in Europe, owing to the late German war, and recent disastrous financial crisis in Europe, has caused the failure of a large number of jewelry houses in London and Paris, obliging them to sell their goods at a great sacrafice, in some instances less than one third the cost of manufacturing. We have lately purchased very largely of these bankrupt goods, at such extremely low prices that we can afford to send away finer goods, and give better chances to draw the most valuable prizes than any other establishment doing a similar busindss. OUR AIM IS TO PLEASE, and we respectfully solicit your patronage, as we are confident of giving the utmost satisfaction. During the past year we have forwarded a number of the most valuable prizes to all parts of the country. Those who patronize us will receive the full value of their money, as no article on our list is worth less than one dollar, retail, and there are no blanks. Parties dealing with us may depend on having prompt returns, and the article drawn will be immediately sent to any address by return mail or express.

PHYSICIANS AND OTHERS

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

ACTS GENTLY

Is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action.

FOR THE SATISFACTION OF ALL

See Medical Properties contained in the Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Urethr, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or the Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy."

[DR. KEYSER is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia.]

MR. H. T. HELMBOLD:

DEAR SIR:—In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about BUCHU, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such inedicate agent would be indicated.

You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgement, is warranted by the facts.

I have seen and used, as stated before, every form of BUCHU—the powdered leaves the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality, I give yours precedence over all others.

I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other proprietary compound of whatever name, or any other Buchu.

Respectfully yours, &c.,

PRIVATE Medical INSTITUTE,

DR. J. C, YOUNG, IN 1850,
For the cure of all Private Diseases and
ALL FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

CONSULTING OFFICE,

SAN FRANCISCO,.....CALIFORNIA.

THIS CELEBRATED INSTITUTE has enjoyed on this coast an uninterrupted success of fourteen years, and has become one of the renowned Hospitals of the age. What the celebrated Lock Hospital is to London, and the no less renowned establishment of Ricord is to Paris, this Institute has become to the Pacific coast. The thousands annually received and cured place it in point of number of patients among the very first of the world, and the success of its treatment ranks it second to none.

PRIVATE DISEASES IN MALES and IRREGULARITIES IN FEMALES are the great destroyers of health. They insidiously attack the system and gradually undermine and destroy it; they drive the bloom from the cheek, the lustre from the eye, the strength from the frame; they give to the world puny and diseased offspring, and poison, through successive generations the race of man. The marks can be seen in Scrofula, Consumption, Cripples, the Idiotic, the Paralytic, the Insane, etc.

There is no more terrible scourge to the human race than those diseases arising from the contamination of Venerial Poison. The mildest forms, by retreating to the blood, hold over the afflicted one, the destruction that is liable at any moment to fall and blight—to utterly destroy—all earthly hopes.

MERCURY, recognized as the most fatal medical enemy to man, combining with the Venereal, doubles its dangers. Those who have been treated with that pernicious mineral poison are not cured; the disease has only assumed a new form.

Do not be satisfied with partial cures that leave the poison to crawl through the system, eating its way into the tissues and organs beneath the apparently smooth surface, to burst out in the future with a virulence that will baffle the effects of medicine, WHEN PERFECT CURES can be obtained by consulting a physician whom long practice and thorough investigation into the causes of DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS enables to determine at once the nature of the disease.

In all cases entrusted to the Doctor's care, PERFECT, SPEEDY and PERMANENT Cures are Always Guaranteed.

In syphilis and its adjuncts; Gonnorrhœa and its accompanying diseases; and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and prostate; Seminal Weakness; Diseases of the Heart and Lungs; Dyspepsia; Indigestion, Impotency; Incipient consumption, and all diseases of the urinary organs, in either sex, cure always warranted, or NO PAY REQUIRED, at the Seminal Weakness or Spermatorrhœa.

The young man who experiences that growing weakness in his muscular and mental organization, should stop to consider whence it arises. He will find in the weakness of the back, trembling of the limbs, disordered digestion unaccountable failing of the powers of the mind, distaste for society, dread of impending trouble, forebodings of evil, sleeplessness, troubled and lascivious dreams, accompanied by growing deafness, loss of muscular power, and numerous other symptons of disorganization, the positive traces of that most terrible and destructive of all diseases Seminal Weakness—wasting away his powers, destroying his hope of life and manhood, and dragging him along the broken path of his existence towards a premature and loathsome grave. To him who finds his life dribbling out in the discharge of the vital principle of existence in nocturnal and diurnal emissions, the mere cessation of its appearance brings no assurance of relief.

Marriage, that holy office, the safeguard and hope of manhood, brings to such an one no hope of cure, but adds to his misery in the knowledge that the one who looks to him for so much of her happiness, is a victim to this evil, and an innocent companion of his punishment. He adds to his misery and disorder until hope leaves him. There is no rescue except in proper and skillful treatment. Consult then, at once, a physician whom long practice and careful research has made thoroughly conversant with every phase of the disease. Those who have become the victims of solitary vices, that dreadful, fascinating and destructive habit, which fills thousands of sick-rooms with paralytics and consumptives, and hundreds of untimely graves with its misguided victims, should consult, without a moment's delay, one who will sympathize with their sufferings. To such the Doctor would especially address himself, giving to each and all assurance of a PERFECT and PERMANENT CURE, without hindrance to business, change of diet, or fear of exposure.

Do not forget the address. See below.

Important to Females.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with disease and requires medical or surgical assistance, the enquiry should be, Where is there a physician who is fully competent to administer relief, and whose respectable standing in society recommends him to the confidence of the community? The Doctor understanding how imperatively necessary these requirements are, feels called upon to interpose, and beg the attention of the afflicted to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics and Female Diseases for twenty years, and is fully qualified to administer in all cases, both medically and surgically, not in a superficial manner, but in as thorough a manner as years of study and practice—both in hospitals and private families—can make, to save them from the hands of the unqualified, unscrupulous and designing. Therefore families can rely upon him as upon a father. All in affliction can find in him one who will feel and sympathize with and befriend them in trouble—one in whose secrecy the utmost confidence can be placed. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE. See address below.

THE CELEBRATED FEMALE REMEDIES, compounded from the private prescription of Dr. Young, have now obtained a most extended popularity, and are correctly viewed to be the safest and surest remedies for the complaints for which they are applied. DR. PERRAULT'S studies have been almost exclusively devoted to the cure of the various forms of Nervous and Physical Debility, the results of injurious habits acquired in youth, which usually terminate in impotence and sterility, and permanently induce all the concomitants of old age. Where a secret infirmity exists involving the happiness of a life and that of others, reason and morality dictate the necessity of its removal, for it is a fact that premature decline of the vigor of manhood, matrimonial unhappiness, compulsory single life, etc., have their sources in causes, the germ of which is planted in early life, and the bitter fruit tasted long after- ward; patients, laboring under this complaint, will complain of one or more of the following symptons: Nocturnal Emissions, Pains in the Back and Head, Weakness of Memory and Sight, Discharge from the Uretha on going to stool or making water, the Intellectual Faculties are Weakened, Loss of Memory ensues, Ideas are clouded and there is a disinclination to attend to business, or even to reading, writign or the society of friends, etc, The patient will probably complain of Dizziness, Vertigo and that Sight and Hearing are Weakened and sleep disturbed by dreams, melancholy, sighing, palpitations, faintings, coughs and slow fever; while some have external rheumatic pain, bness of the body, Some of the most common symptons are pimples in the face and aching in different parts of the body. Patients suffering from this disease, should apply immediately to Dr. PERRAULT, either in person or by letter as he will guarantee a cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotence in six to eight weeks.

Patients suffering from venereal diseases in any stage Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Bubo Ulcers, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., will be treated successfully. All Syphilitic and Mercurial Taints entirely removed from the system.

DR. PERRAULT'S diplomas are in his office, where patients can see for themselves that they are under the care of a regularly educated practitioner. The best references given if required.

Patients suffering under chronic diseases, can call and examine for themselves. We invite investigation; claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but we do claim that in all cases taken under treatment we fulfil our promises. We particularly request those who have tried this boasted doctor, and that advertised physician, till worn out and discouraged, to call upon us.

Low charges and quick cures. Ladies suffering from any complaint incidental to their sex, can consult the doctor, with the assurance of relief.
